 LIFE INSURANCE SERVICE

Commencing with last issue, there will be published in The Enterprise a series of ads. drawing attention to the vital importance of your policies in view of reports that are not conducive to the protection of same. Each and every ad should be carefully considered and digested by all policy holders throughout the Dominion and particularly in the province of Alberta, where matters are not, at this moment, very promising to any who may be holders of bonds or policies. Destruction or partial destruction of the value of securities which stand behind each and every life insurance policy, would spell untold injury to the holder of same, especially when they mean, in the majority of cases, the protection of their families and to provide for their own old age.

PREMIER SPEAKS AT COLEMAN

All sections of The Pass were represented in the great gathering of people at Coleman last night to greet Premier Aberhart. Following a banquet at 6.30, the premier addressed a mass meeting in the Coleman arena, which was packed to overflowing, hundreds being unable to gain admittance.

Mr. Aberhart was accompanied by E. O. Duke, M.L.A. for this constituency.

WESTERN CANADA ROAD BUILDING

Possibility of lower cost roads that will cost less to build and less to maintain is being investigated by western road engineers in view of the proposed Dominion-Provincial relief work programs in which highway building is to be a big item.

In the general field of road building there has been a marked difference in construction costs since 1930. The problem is also one in which the interests of the general public is as keen as that of the engineers. Even though harassed by trying times of the depression, and not withstanding the fact that roads have cost a lot of money, people of the western provinces are beginning to think they have been one of the best investments their governments have undertaken. They have borne fruit many fold. The provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are now known on the North American continent as attractive places for people to go. Already the tourist figures for 1936 are indicating big business for this year. To keep it, good roads are necessary. As they become known, the western provinces are becoming singularly attractive to people of the south. Year by year they are coming in increasing numbers to enjoy the rivers, lakes and weather of the prairies.

A most excellent picture of Mr. C. J. Tompkins, a Blairmore insurance agent, appears in the Coleman Journal this week.

James Cassidy, of Coleman, died suddenly in a Spokane hotel on Saturday last, aged 35. The remains were brought back to Coleman, and were laid to rest yesterday afternoon, following service held by Rev. A. S. Partington at the Anglican church. He was born in Pictou County, Nova Scotia. Surviving are his father; a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Williams, of Massachusetts; and three brothers, Wilson, Harold and John J. Cassidy. He had been spending a holiday in Spokane.

INSPECTOR SCOTT TO CALGARY

CALGARY, Oct. 7.—Inspector J. O. Scott, in command of the Vegreville sub-division of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, will move to Calgary to shortly take over the command of the Calgary sub-division; Inspector P. H. Tucker, Edmonton, temporarily in command in Calgary, announced on Tuesday afternoon. Inspector Tucker said he would assume command in Vegreville as soon as he had handed over duties to Inspector Scott within the next week or two.

Inspector Scott stated that he had received instructions from Ottawa to "take over" from Inspector Scott as soon as possible.

He described the removals as being "ordinary routine." Both he and Inspector Scott, he said, had been in their respective posts, Edmonton and Vegreville, since 1932, when the Mounted Police took over the policing of the province from the Alberta Provincial Police, he said.

Inspector G. C. P. Montzambert will remain in charge of the Edmonton division, Inspector Tucker said.

Inspector Scott is a veteran of the South African War. He joined the Alberta Provincial Police in the year of its inauguration, 1918, and served as a constable at Lacombe for some time. He replaced Inspector Jack Risk as commander of the Alberta Provincial Police in Lethbridge and was reputed to have been instrumental in the breaking of a dope ring, while stationed there. In 1932 he transferred to Vegreville at the time the A.P.P. was taken over by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

ROYAL MONTREAL REGIMENT TO ERECT MEMORIAL TABLET

A committee of past commanding officers, and others of the Royal Montreal Regiment, have undertaken the erection of a memorial tablet to the officers and men of the regiment who gave their lives in its service during the Great War.

The tablet will be of bronze and will have a receptacle in its base for a Book of Memory in which will be inscribed on parchment the names of all those to whom the tablet is dedicated. Embodied in the design will be the crests of the 14th Battalion, The Royal Montreal Regiment, the 23rd Reserve Battalion and the 56th Westmount Rifles.

The tablet will be erected within the regiment's armoury, which was also erected and dedicated as a memorial to those who made the supreme sacrifice. The unveiling of the memorial tablet will take place on Sunday, November 8th, this year, following a reunion of the regiment on November 7th.

In order that ex-members of the Royal Montreal Regiment, now scattered throughout Canada, may have an opportunity to participate in the erection of the memorial to their fallen comrades, a subscription list is now open. Contributions should be sent to the Honorary Treasurer, Capt. W. A. Fowler, P.O. Box 352, Station B, Montreal.

D. R. McKay left yesterday for Great Falls, Mont., where he will visit his son and daughter.

John Pietraszko, of Coleman, a violin pupil of W. H. Moser, will leave New York on October 18th on the M.S. Pilsulski, of the Polish line, to continue his studies. He was born in Coleman, where his father died following an accident about six years ago. His mother died a year or two later. He studied under both W. J. Harris and W. H. Moser, well known and capable violin teachers in The Pass. He was awarded a scholarship together with two others in Canada, one from Hamilton and one from Toronto. The scholarships were awarded by the Federation of Polish Societies of Canada.

JOHN DELICATE PASSES

An old-timer of the Bellevue and Hillcrest district, in the person of John Delicate, passed away in the Hillcrest hospital on Thursday night of last week.

Deceased had been a resident of the district for quite a number of years, being engaged principally as a carpenter and builder. He was a member of Sentinel Lodge, A.F. & A.M., Hillcrest.

The remains were laid to rest on Sunday afternoon, following service at the United Church and Masonic rites at the graveside at Hillcrest cemetery.

JULY RAILWAY REVENUES SHOW MARKED INCREASE

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—Gross revenues of Canadian railways during July amounted to $27,301,238, an increase of $1,115,185 over July 1935, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported. Operating expenses, however, increased by $2,537,851, and reduced net operating revenues from $3,388,221 to $1,966,055 and operating income from $2,331,402 to $889,843.

Freight traffic showed a decrease of 4.9 per cent, but passenger traffic measured in passenger miles increased by 23.5 per cent.

For the seven months, January-July, gross revenues were $176,787,950 in 1936 and $165,714,620 in 1935, and the operating income was $8,208,885 in 1936 and $1,002,825 in 1935.

Canadian National Railways, Canadian lines, earned $12,660,455 in July as against $12,512,307 last year, but, with operating expenses greater by $1,312,988, net operating revenue dropped from $835,975 to a debit of $328,816 and the operating income from $437,993 to a debit of $611,988. All four United States lines showed larger gross revenues, raising the system revenue from $14,071,131 to $15,296,295, but with larger operating expenses and heavy operating income deductions the system operating income was reduced from a credit of $514,832 in July, 1935, to a debit of $657,276.

Canadian Pacific Railway gross revenues for July increased from $11,118,979 in 1935 to $11,592,882 in 1936, and operating expenses from $9,254,193 to $10,235,492, reducing the operating income from $1,526,181 to $979,099. Passenger traffic showed an increase of 1.6 per cent in number of passengers carried but 33.9 per cent in passenger miles, the average passenger journey increasing from 106.5 miles to 140.7 miles.

For January-July, gross revenues increased from $67,469,537 in 1935 to $73,906,643 and the operating income increased from $7,588,200 to $7,770,009.

Following the visit of the premier to Coleman yesterday, one thing is certain, (he thinks) the Alberta, an absolutely 100-per cent political paper, is entitled to support from the Pass public. Oh Yah! but who pays for that?

At Vancouver on September the 23rd, Premier Aberhart stated that he had not come to British Columbia with any intention of starting a new political party, but impressed his listeners that they should get solidly behind Social Credit as the people of Alberta have done. "I do not want to scare you," he said, when denouncing British Columbia's per capita debt of $1,827 for each citizen, "but use your sense and judgment. The example just across the mountains ought to make you sit up and think. The people of Alberta are solid for this thing, and I want you to get solid, too." Mr. Aberhart stated that Alberta needed their fish, lumber, fruit and sundry products, just as British Columbia needed Alberta's cattle, hogs and flour. He emphasized the need of close co-operation.

POLICE MAGISTRATE TURNER DISMISSED

All police magistrates of Alberta who are not known to be openly friendly to the Social Credit administration live under the threat of dismissal. The latest of their number to be given summary dismissal by the attorney-general's department is Mr. E. G. Turner, of Brooks. In his official position during the past three and one-half years, Mr. Turner has dispensed justice in a manner that has won respect. Few of his decisions have been challenged in the higher courts, but official displeasure has been visited upon him because he is not convinced that the economic theories of the present administration, and when applied, would be in the best interests of the province.

As in the case of Mr. W. P. Roberts, dismissed police magistrate, of Hanna, the request of Mr. Turner for a public inquiry into the charges against him was summarily dismissed by the attorney-general's department. Neither official was given an opportunity to defend himself, but simply ordered to get out. This conduct on the part of the government may well arouse alarm among all those citizens of Alberta who are opposed to political interference with justice. It suggests that only political friends are to administer justice in the courts of the province open to control from Edmonton. Until that time arrives the threat of official terrorism hangs over the heads of many men who are performing a useful judicial function as police magistrates.—Calgary Herald.

AND NOW, THE CLERGY

There is a logical progression about Mr. Aberhart's notions of censorship that he himself may or may not be conscious of. True, he claims to ask nothing more than "the truth" from those who make public utterances, but observe where that claim is leading him.

Two magistrates and as justice of the peace have been summarily dismissed from office within the past few weeks, on the charge that in private life they have expressed disagreement with the policies of the government. In no case was the alleged culprit given any chance to defend himself publicly, nor does any reasonable effort seem to have been made toward ascertaining the truth of the charges. So much for censorship of the courts.

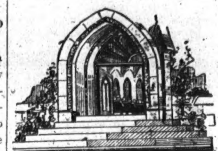

For months past Mr. Aberhart has been striving to work up public sentiment in favor of a press censorship; and some of the statements, he himself, has made in the course of that effort have, to put it mildly, taken full advantage of the freedom of speech that he wishes to restrict.

Last evening he turned his attention in a new direction. It is the pulpit, this time, that has offended by disagreeing with him; and it is noticeable that he poured upon his clerical critics the same scorn and derision that he has always expressed for the independent press.

Mr. Aberhart may, or may not, yet have realized it, but the obvious truth is that if he wishes to muzzle one section of the community he must muzzle all. For in every walk of life there are people who disagree with him and disapprove of his methods, just as there are presumably people in every walk of life who agree and approve. Even if he succeeded in whipping the bench and the public press into line with his own highly individual ideas of truth, he would still have the pulpit, the radio and the private thought and speech of a whole province to police.

And that might be difficult.—Calgary Herald.

NEW DEAL SEEN FOR FISHERMEN

Down by the Atlantic, round the fresh water lakes and rivers and along the Pacific shores, there's a feeling of decided optimism among those in the Canadian fishing industry over the effort of the Department of Fisheries to increase the national consumption of Canadian Fish.

According to one authority, the things for which the industry and the fishermen have advocated for years are coming to pass. For instance, $200,000 has been appropriated by the government to increase the demand for Canadian fisheries products. There is a $300,000 loan fund voted for the assistance of needy Maritime fishermen in renewing boats and gear. And there is a move afoot for social improvement that will bring more benefits to the men who go down to the sea.

It looks like a new deal all round for the Canadian fisherman and his industry. If the advertising now being launched by the government is successful in its objectives, those in fishing circles claim that the Canadian fishing industry will receive an impetus that will send it forward to a new and prosperous basis. And, in fact the first to benefit will be the fisherman himself. According to the "Canadian Fisherman," a journal devoted to the industry, the welfare of Canada's fisherman is recognized by all in the industry as of primary importance. With the increased popularity of fish and greater consumption of it by their fellow citizens, the fishermen of Canada are looking forward to an era of better conditions and more prosperity than have been theirs for years.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Germans involved in automobile accidents henceforth will be submitted to a special blood test proving sobriety or intoxication, the ministry of the interior announced.

Extensions of lines and equipment costing $6,750,000 will be made this fall in connection with the United Kingdom's government telephone services.

During July 65 persons were killed in highway accidents in Ontario, the Ontario highways department reported. The figure was the highest in any July since 1929.

Provincial relief inspectors checking a plea from Riverside, Essex county, for more provincial help, "found 22 relief recipients driving their own cars," Hon. David Croft, minister of public welfare, said.

Western Canada's wheat crop this year is one of the highest in quality. It was indicated in a report of James D. Fraser, chief grain inspector, to the annual meeting of the grain standard board.

A decline of $85,000,000 in total cash income of United States farmers from July to August—when farm income usually increases—was reported by the agriculture department.

Declaring baby shoes cause jealousy and unhappiness the Mothers and Infants Association at Croydon, England, declined to act on a reception committee at a national baby show in London.

Striking suddenly in United States cities from coast to coast, treasury law enforcement agencies had made close to 1,000 arrests and seized several hundred illicit stills in a drive against narcotic and liquor law violators.

Land Salvaged in India

Forty Million Acres Reclaimed By British in Fifty Years

British India lends the world in territory that has been reclaimed or irrigated during the last fifty years, according to the latest report of the Central Irrigation Board of India, just published at India Office, London. The total of desert land irrigated and swamp and marshes reclaimed now borders on 40,000,000 acres, 31,000,000 of which are in British India.

The second country for the amount of land reclaimed in ten years is Italy with just under 6,000,000 acres. In India the land reclaimed alone amounts to 7,000,000 acres; the balance laid down to cultivation has been irrigated.

When the present projects in India shall be completed 50,000,000 acres of land will have been irrigated; to-day what has been done furnishes work for just that number of people, who own or work crops which give forth $375,000,000 worth of produce—principally rice and wheat, while the quantity of water used daily is about 260,000,000 gallons, extracted from over 75,000 miles of canals and distributed by over 50 great dams and hundreds of smaller ones.

Clear Of Debt

British Columbia Town Celebrates By Burning Paid Off Bonds

A little pile of ashes was all that remained of Ladysmith's $94,336 bonded debt. When coal mines there closed six years ago the town appeared doomed financially. Last spring a rebirth took place with the establishment of a logging company in this British Columbia town. A giant tanglepole was erected on the site where the city's debt was burned, as if to signalize the passing of the coal digging era.

A new prosperity brought by the logging company has enabled the city to pay off its debts to the last cent. The city celebrated the occasion by burning the bonds in a giant bonfire.

Closed Season For Squirrels—All shooting or trapping of red squirrels will be prohibited in Alberta this fall and winter, according to an order issued by the game branch. General scarcity of the little animals resulted in their being put on the protected list. In previous years they had been open seasons from Nov. 1 to March 31.

Completes Long Trip

Marchioness Of Reading Visited United States And Canada

The Marchioness of Reading has returned to England after completing a 10,000-mile transcontinental motor tour.

Travelling with only one companion and a chauffeur in order to study the people of Canada and the United States at first hand, Lady Reading said she was impressed by their vitality and friendliness, especially the young.

"One of the things that particularly struck me in every city and small town I have visited," she said, "has been the latent and super wealth that lies in the youth of the country. Their vitality, enterprise and determination, their energetic attack of a job and their large-viewed vision of the future are very stimulating and thrilling to watch."

Lady Reading, whose husband died last December, arrived at New York in May. After visiting friends, attending the two political conventions and being a guest of President and Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House, she started her trip through Canada, returning east through the United States.

She said she disregarded letters of introduction that she had been given, in order not to disclose her identity. As head of the Personal Service, largest voluntary relief organization in England, Lady Reading was particularly interested in observing relief methods. She talked with filling station men, mechanics, W.P.A. workmen, farmers, tradespeople and business men.

"As an interested watcher," she said, "I cannot help feeling that one of the great gifts education and democracy have had to bestow has been the complete freedom from self-consciousness which is so apparent in the youth of the country."

"It is a very striking thing to see the splendid way in which people have spent their money to enrich their cities and states. Universities, hospitals, libraries and monuments have been provided on a scale more lavish than anywhere else in the world."

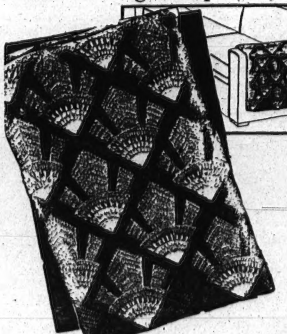

Made Himself Popular

Berlin's Chief Of Police Stopped Tooting Of Horns

For once the chief of police in Berlin is popular. His plan of marking noisy automobile drivers has brought peace. He ruled that anyone tooting his auto horn too loud or too frequently must have his car painted with a large yellow spot. After a few had received the decoration others became quiet, and peace reigned in the city which not long ago was called one of the noisiest in Europe.

Commodore Gooderham, of Toronto, urges car drivers to take up sailing to learn courtesy, but that's just the trouble. Too many motorists already know how to sail along the highways—too fast.

Crochet an Afghan Square by Square

PATTERN 5668

A soft, warm afghan's practically a necessity when one lies down for a cat-nap, and here's one that even brightens your slumbers. Called "Rising Sun," this easily crocheted block is done in three shades of one color, on a dark background. Thus a stunning effect is obtained. Crochet the block in the same, or different, colors and use up scraps of wool. Make a pillow too. In pattern 5668 you will find directions for making the afghan; an illustration of it and of the stitches used; material requirements, and color suggestions.

To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (cash preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

The Newest Photography

Trivision Principle Shows Depth And Cost Is Low

A picture of an old man in his shirt sleeves glittered in natural color on the desk of Douglas F. Winnick, 29-year-old Madison, Wis., photographic engineer. The picture seemed to be a frame through which one was looking at a live human being.

Suddenly Winnick picked it up, and the man in the picture seemed to move. An observer could see around the man and look at the scenery in the background. The likeness was round and full and the 8-by-10 photograph had actual depth, Winnick laughed and explained:

"This is the first 'trivision' photograph having three dimensions ever made."

Winnick demonstrated a series of "trivision" photographs, saying he expects the principle to revolutionize motion pictures, photography, Roentgenology, television and graphic printing.

The technique employed—use of cellulose acetate plates embossed with 300 ridges to the inch—will enable each of these fields to adopt pictures showing depth just as realistically as an actual live scene, Winnick said, and the cost is exceptionally low.

Winnick described his process as follows: The eyes see two pictures in any object, but the brain co-ordinates these, giving the sense of depth. In photography only one picture can be shown by the old process, resulting in a flat, lifeless impression. The new process is simply a method of presenting two pictures to the eye.

Winnick accomplished this by growing the negative of the film. These grooves are no minute as they are invisible, and are the secret of the entire process. Each groove serves as a tiny lens which breaks the single image into two parts. The completed negative becomes then a mass of tiny two-section pictures.

The negative is developed on cellulose acetate plates, also grooved. These grooves retain the panoramic pictures. When seen from any angle the apparently smooth acetate, or print, resolves itself into a separate picture for each eye, and presents a clear, soft, rounded view.

Winnick displayed a picture of fruit in a display window. The scene was in full natural color. Each piece of fruit was outlined in depth and a view from a different angle revealed another piece behind it. The picture was ordinary size, 8 by 10 inches.

Protege Of The Queen

Young Orphan Boy Will Receive A Secondary Education

Queen Mary presented for admission to the Royal Infant Orphanage, Wanstated, a two-and-a-half-year-old orphan boy who will be maintained there and receive a secondary education until he is 16. He is Brian William Frank Roberts, whose father, a chief steward on the Orient line boat, the Otranto, died last year. His mother died at the age of 24.

An official of the orphanage explained Queen Mary had the right of nomination to the institution of two children, so that there is always a protegee of hers at the orphanage.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should give out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not there your food won't digest. It just goes in the bowels. Gas builds up and you feel constipated. Liver poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, you feel the world looks black. A new bowel movement doesn't always get the poisons out. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel like a new man. They do the work of a catalyst but have no alcohol or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Habitually refuse acceptor else $10.

New Gold Strike

Encouraging Reports Received From Yellowknife Mining Division

Confirmation of a new gold strike in the Yellowknife mining division of the Northwest Territories is contained in a message received by Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of the interior, from A. L. Cunningham, chief mining inspector for the department at Fort Smith, N.W.T.

The message stated the new gold strike is located on the east side of Gordon Lake, about 50 miles north-east of the mouth of the Yellowknife river, where it enters Great Slave Lake.

The original locators of the find were representatives of the Mining Corporation of Canada, who made the strike last July 15, staking 96 claims. Two weeks later, the A. X. Syndicate staked 100 claims in the area. On September 5 staking was carried out by representatives of Ventures Limited, Fred Connell, the A. E. Syndicate, Karl Springer, Wood-Brown Syndicate, Burwash, Yellowknife Mines Limited, The Mining Corporation and the A. X. Syndicate are planning to carry on development work during "freeze-up."

Interest in the new strike is indicated by activity of companies engaged in prospecting and mining in the Yellowknife mining division. Approximately 600 claims had been staked up to now. Mining Inspector Cunningham and Dr. A. W. Jolliffe, geologist of the Dominion department of mines, visited the area. Mr. Cunningham's report stated the strike consists of a series of veins, lenses and shearing zones occurring in a belt 15 miles in length with showings of free gold. Width of the veins and lenses would indicate commercial tonnage if the samples stand up under assay.

Sanctity Of Contracts

Maritime Board Of Trade Sees Danger Of Departure From Rigid Honesty

"A definite and apparently increasing tendency in certain quarters to depart from that rigid honesty in involving sanctity of all contracts and obligations, provincial, municipal and personal" was noted by the maritime board of trade.

In a resolution passed at the closing session of the annual convention which expressed "gravest concern" in view of the trend, the association sought to "earnestly impress upon the federal government its profound seriousness."

Sanctity of all contracts and obligations in the past had been accepted everywhere as traditionally and characteristically Canadian, the resolution stated.

The federal government was urged to use its "full prerogative to maintain the credit and standing of all Canada because of the inevitable consequences upon the credit and reputation of the country" of the departure from traditional and characteristic honesty observed, the resolution concluded.

Butter Increase

A new record for creamery butter production was established in Saskatchewan during 1935 when the output reached the total of 22,853,859 pounds. This is almost two million pounds in excess of the previous high mark set in 1934.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON OCTOBER 11

BECOMING A CHRISTIAN

Golden text: Believe on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved. Acts 16:31.

Scripture: Acts 16:16-40; Philippians 3:7-14.

Devotional reading: II. Corinthians 1:3-10.

Explanations And Comments

The Second Convert to Christianity in Philippi, Acts 16:16-18. At Philippi Paul was greatly disturbed by a fortune-telling maid who kept following him and Silas and crying out, "These men are servants of the Most High God, who proclaim unto you the way of salvation."

The crowd of ill-iterate chaff and a crowd of curiosity seekers. Paul turned to her one day and in the name of Jesus Christ bade the spirit leave her, and she became wholly normal. Nothing further is said about this girl whose story arouses our sympathy.

"The owners of the slave girl with the abnormal mind had a very definite sense of commercial value. They did not have much sense of human value. When the insane girl was brought to market, and fastened there, they did not give a moment's thought to the fact that she was saved to a normal life. They only thought of the fact that while they could commercialize her insanity, her sanity had no commercial value at all. So they began to stir up the city against Paul and Silas" (Lynn H. Crowl).

The crowd clamored for the punishment of the two Jews, and the magistrates, without stopping to investigate the charge, ordered Paul and Silas stripped and beaten.

Paul, which should have been handed over to a jailer who put them in an inner prison, which may have been a dungeon, and fastened their feet in the stocks.

The Strange Release, Acts 16:25. Paul and Silas were in the stocks when the blows received, and they were held in an unendurably cramped position, but, as Tertullian says, "Their legs in the stocks pained them not whose souls were in heaven." At midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns, and the other prisoners were listening to them.

At midnight their bonds were burst asunder and the doors of the prison were flung wide open by an earthquake, and the old Roman jail to its foundation. The terrified jailer, who thought his prisoners had escaped, and there was nothing left for him to do but kill himself, was reassured by the calm voice of Paul, who said, "Do yourself no harm for we are all here." And he called for lights and sprang in, and, trembling with fear, before Paul and Silas, and brought them out, and said, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?"

And they said, Believe in the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house. And they spoke the word of the Lord unto him, with all that were in his house. And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed the stripes; and was baptized.

Paul's Goal, and How He Won It. Philippians 3:10-14. Of course all things to be lost, that I may gain Christ, so that I may know him and the power of his resurrection," cries Paul.

Carry High Speed Cameras

Aircraft Being Built For Service In Northwest Territories

The second of three aircraft being built in Montreal for the department of national defence for service in the Northwest Territories has been put through tests. The planes are especially built for high speed photographic and transport work and carry sufficient fuel and oil for five and a half hours' work at high altitude.

At the rear of the cabins are mountings for three oblique cameras which photograph automatically through small apertures in the metal body. The aircraft are fitted with float landing gear and the normal wheel undercarriages can also be fitted as well as a special ski undercarriage for winter flying.

The Netherlands have a shortage of lapd and must find employment in industry for over 30,000 people this year.

Nearly every country in the world has, at one time or another, turned its post office system into an advertising agency.

Carrying War Orders

Army-Ago Nazis Know Where To Report If Needed

Millions of Germans between the ages of 25 and 45 are carrying in their vest pockets an order telling them exactly when and where they must report in the event of war. This "Kriegsbeordung," (order to take part in war), as it is headed is causing admitted anxiety, especially among the older men who themselves experienced the horrors of the Great War.

Outwardly they display enthusiasm, but in private, confidential conversations their beliefs are often quite different.

With Prussian exactness the order specifies even the barracks in which the recipient is to report, what he is to bring with him in the way of clothing, what he is to do in case he meanwhile changes his residence, etc.

The order is a blue sheet of paper eight by five inches. Written crosswise on the face of it are the words: "This order serves in lieu of a ticket on the railways to the point where the addressee must report."

Regulations accompanying the order state that failure to live up to the terms of the Kriegsbeordung will be punished by martial law. "The person thus summoned is subject to martial law from the first day of its becoming effective."

Practice Has Been Stopped

Philippine Jail Prisoners Not Allowed To Eat

Prisoners in the provincial jails of the Philippine Islands may no longer return to their homes, unescorted, to have their meals and to sleep.

Elpidio Quirino, secretary of the interior, has returned from a tour of the provinces and says that the "illegal and bad practice" must be discontinued forthwith.

The reason for allowing the prisoners to take their meals at home was that the government thus avoided the cost of feeding them.

In the past, minor offenders in many prisons were permitted to go home two or three times a day for their meals. Many of them were released every night so that they could sleep at home. Few tried to escape.

A Good Advertisement

Smith noticed a shilling on the floor of a big store. After glancing casually around to see that no one was looking he took out his handkerchief and dropped it on top of the coin. He then picked up the handkerchief, but the coin stuck firmly to the floor. He stood up hastily as he heard a shop assistant approached him.

Henceforth, in Montreal, anyone who blows an auto horn between midnight and four a.m. will be liable to a fine of $40 and costs or one month in jail. This will be apt to take the enthusiasm out of the tooters.

PRICE CUTTERS AND BEDROOM PRINTERS

We would remind some of the predatory birds in the form of free publicity seekers that this goes for The Journal, too. This paper is a business enterprise, it comes here to pay its way and to give a service to the best of its ability and as good as the revenue would permit. Yet we have known chisellers to send a printing job elsewhere to save a few cents. In fact one instance was reported where a customer (not in Coleman) of a weekly newspaper sent his order for counter check books to Winnipeg rather than pay the 70c provincial sales tax to his local printing office. There was a prize chiseller, and the editor didn't overlook publishing the fact. The printing trade, like many other business enterprises, always has had to contend with cut prices and bedroom printers, and like fleas on a dog, they will continue to breed. Legitimate wages, regular hours and all other conditions of labor are ignored by these scabs on legitimate industry. Yes, we have them too! But quality, like truth, wins in the final count.—Coleman Journal.

IT'S JUST A SQUABBLE!

Free publicity comes in by the ream. Some from the provincial government, which tells people not to read any other newspaper than the Calgary Alberta; some from quacks, and the prize tit-bit was a bulky envelope containing a lot of stuff we didn't take time to read except we saw a coupon which we were asked to return with a contribution to aid Spanish Democracy.—Rev. Ben Spence's name appeared as acting chairman of this committee, address Toronto. Now, democracy needs a lot of aiding in Alberta right now, and it may need more before we throw off the yoke of Fascism which is insidiously developing, helped along by a weakened electorate who have been told they can repudiate their debts and get away with it. So the appeal for Spanish Democracy as well as all the other publicity stuff went quickly into the can. This reminds us of a fight we saw last Saturday night. Two men were hammering away when a third butted in. Then a fourth stepped in and started on the man who had butted in. "You just leave 'em alone, and don't poke your nose into a family squabble," he warned the butter-in after giving him a few nasty pokes. So when we are asked to send contributions to Spain, we should remember that it is none of our business butting into their civil war. "If they want to fight, let 'em fight, or as an old song said: If the misus wants to drown, let 'er drown."—Coleman Journal.

Two colored boys were having an argument about ghosts. One of them claimed to have seen a ghost the night before. "What was dis here ghost's doin' when you las' seen him?" asked the doubting one.

"Jes' fallin' behin', mistah; fallin' behin' rapid!"—Clipped.

"You say you were once cast away on a desert island, entirely without food. How did you live?"

"Oh, I happened to have an insurance policy in my pocket, and I found enough provisions on it to keep me alive till I was rescued."

RUMOR-MONGERS FAILED

No other industry takes the elaborate precautions that the automobile industry does to bottle up secrets of its new products, says Detroit Auto Reports, and this Fall has been no exception. "The mystery has been extended this year to greater and lesser degrees," continued the statement in a summary of 1937 model plans: "dependent on the importance of the forthcoming program. Each year, however, there have been leaks. Detroit, with the livelihood of its million-and-a-half inhabitants closely linked to the automobile industry, becomes a city of gossips. Companies, realizing that information of new developments can hinder the sale of current models, adopt a number of subterfuges to conceal their plans. Orders for a part never give any more details than is absolutely necessary, leaving each department in the lark on what the other is doing. Design rooms are closely guarded. Test cars travel at night under the disguise of old bodies. In keeping the complete nature of its 1937 program from employees as a safeguard against leaks, one company, in the quality group that is planning a radical departure this year, started three different motors down the 'line.' Only one had the approval of executives, but few understood which of the three. The result is that while many rumors regarding the product have been circulated, a select group alone knows what is in the wind."

A FATAL MISTAKE

The following, clipped from an exchange, makes interesting reading, as well as producing a laugh: "The editor of a newspaper lost two of his subscribers lately through accidentally departing from the beaten path in his answers to correspondents. Two of his subscribers wrote to ask him his remedy for their respective troubles. No. 1, a happy father of twins, wrote to inquire the best way to get their safely over their teeth; and No. 2, wanted to know how to protect his orchard from the grasshoppers. The editor framed his answers upon the orthodox lines, but unfortunately he transposed the two names with the result that No. 1, who was blessed with twins, got the following answer to his query: "Cover them carefully with straw and set fire to them and the little pests, after jumping about in the flames a few minutes, will be 'agedly settled.' While No. 2, plagued with grasshoppers, was told to "Give them a little castor oil and rub their gums gently with a bone."—Bowmanville Statesman.

BATS IN A DUMBLEFRY

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee,
Or a key to the lock of his hair?
Can his eyes be called an academy,
Because there are pupils there?
In the crown of his head what gems are found;
Who travels the bridge of his nose?
Can he use, when shingling the roof of his house
The nails on the ends of his toes?
Can the crook of his elbow be sent to jail?
If so, what did he do so?
How does he sharpen his shoulder blades?
I'll be hanged if I know—do you?
Can he sit in the shade of the palm of his hand,
Or beat on the drum of his ear?
Does the calf of his leg eat the corn on his toe?
If so, why grow corn on the ear?

Isn't it wonderful how certain people can tell the Dominion what they should do, while they continue to shout "Hands off Alberta." Eight hundred thousand Canadians telling the other ten million what to do. Perhaps this is why we always loved St. Bernard and Newfoundland dogs, and admired their good natured silent contempt of the terrier when he kept nagging at them.—Drumheller Review.

WHAT IS A BOY?

He is a person who is going to carry on what you have started.
He is to sit right where you are sitting and attend when you are gone to those things you think are so important.
You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they will be carried out depends upon him.
Even if you make leagues and treaties, he will have to manage them.
He is going to sit at your desk in Parliament, and occupy your place on the Supreme Bench.
He will assume control of your cities, towns and nation.

He's going to move in, and take over your prisons, churches, schools, universities and corporations.
All your work is going to be judged and praised or condemned by him.
Your reputation and your future are in his hands.
All your work is for him, and the fate of the nations and of humanity is in his hands.
So it might be well to pay him some attention.—Author unknown.

LIFE BEGINS AT SEVENTY!

Between the ages of 70 and 72 Commodore Vanderbilt added about 100 millions to his fortune.
Kant at 74 wrote his Anthropology, Metaphysics of Ethics and Strife of the Faculties.
Tintoretto at 74 painted the vast Paradise, a canvas 74 feet by 30.
Verdi at 74 produced his masterpiece Otello; at 80, Falstaff and at 85 the famous Ave Maria, Stabat Mater and Te Deum.
Lamarck at 78 completed his great zoological work, The Natural History of the Invertebrates.
Oliver Wendell Holmes at 79 wrote Over the Seacups.
Cato at 80 began to study Greek.
Goethe at 80 completed Faust.
Tennyson at 83 wrote Crossing the Bar.
Titian at 98 painted his histoi picture of the Battle Lepanto.

A prominent citizen met our tailor on the street one day and asked him why he had not sent a statement of his account. "Well, you see, it is this way," said the tailor, "I never like to ask a gentleman for money."
"But how about it if he doesn't pay you?" persisted the citizen.
"Oh, after a certain time I come to the conclusion that he isn't a gentleman, and then I ask him."

Mother sent for navy beans. When father returned, he handed the beans to little Mary. The child ran to her mother, opening the sack: "Oh, mother, these are not navy beans! They're white."

We understand there is going to be started in Calgary, a new industry to manufacture muzzles for newspaper men and other opponents of the government. And, unkindest of all, it's reported that these muzzles won't be supplied by the authorities but everyone will be made to purchase their own.—Okotoks Review.

A car owner was having his eyes tested for a driver's license. Pointing to a chart on the wall, the examiner asked the man to identify the things he saw. "What is in the large circle in the centre?" he asked. "That is the figure 18," the man replied. "Wrong," said the examiner. "That's a picture of Mae West talking to Katherine Hepburn."

The Hanna Herald infers that "opinion is widespread that the influence behind and effecting Magistrate Roberts' dismissal centres around a prominent erstwhile bootlegger Social Credit fan, and his intimate acquaintance, Hon. Dr. Cross, minister of health and Hanna's member of the legislature." That dismissal is eliciting widespread condemnation.

Be sure your sins will find you out. At forty-five or thereabout. The shiny baldness of your head will show the kind of life you've led. The candid lines about your eyes will tell no charitable lies. Your pudgy face will testify to idleness and living high. A pallid cast, to beauty's cost. Will tell of slumber that you've lost. A not infrequent little line Will say you looked upon the wine. Approaching age, too swiftly met, Will tell us something of your set. A sea of troubles from within Will baffle of what might have been. The greying hair behind your ears Will say you epitomize the years. Be sure your sins will find you out At forty-five or thereabout.

FORTUNATE NEBRASKA

If the early statesmen of Alberta had been as far-sighted as the people who provided the State of Nebraska with its constitution, we would be in splendid shape today. Nebraska's constitution limited the amount of bonded indebtedness to $100,000. At the end of the last fiscal year that state had nearly $22,000,000 in cash and gilt-edged investments, no bonded indebtedness or any other kind of indebtedness, no income tax, the lowest tax levy for state purposes in the United States. Nebraska had further a $10,000,000 capitol building fully paid for, the fourth largest state university in point of enrollment and a wonderful system of dustless all-weather roads fully paid for.—Hanna Herald.

A BEDTIME STORY

The following cleverly written bedtime story is taken from Liberty's amateur writers page, which is conducted by Major Bowes:

Once upon a time there lived a very beautiful Princess, and she fell in love with a very handsome Prince, and she decided that she would marry him some day. Several days later the Prince fell in love with her and he decided that he would like to marry her, so he asked her, and after she said "Yes," they became engaged.

Now this Prince was very much of a gentleman, but there were a lot of things about him that the Princess did not quite like, so she started to tell him the right thing that he should do and the wrong things that he should not do, so that when they were married she would not be even a little bit ashamed of him.

For instance, she told him that there were certain things that he should not mention even to his dearest friend; that he should change his hose suspenders the same as he did his shirt; that he should talk about Dr. Elliot's Five-Foot Shelf; and should always be in conference when anyone wanted to see him. She also told him that he should eat his soup from him and not toward him, and pointed out all the little things that go to make a man.

The Prince listened to all the things she told him and in about a year he knew what was the right thing to do and what was the wrong thing not to do, so he married another woman and they lived happily ever afterward.

Wife: "Why is there so much electricity in my hair?"

Husband: "Because it is connected with a dry cell."

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

Mrs. J. Henderson and Mrs. R. Henderson and daughter left on Wednesday afternoon for an extended visit to Vancouver, and Mission, B.C., respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Rhodes, of Champlain, paid a short visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Stefano last week.

A party was held in honor of John Ferstay's twenty-second birthday on Thursday in the Catholic hall. John leaves soon to finish his course at the Calgary Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Gardiner and children were visitors to Calgary over the week end.

A successful whist drive was held in the K.P. hall on Monday night last under auspices of the Pythian Sisters. Following cards, a dainty luncheon was served.

Mrs. D. Lockhart, of Fernie, is visiting at the home of her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. J. Makin.

J. Delicate, who passed away in the local hospital on Thursday, had been a resident of Hillcrest for over thirty years.

Miss Mary Warriner returned Tuesday from Calgary, where she had been in training at the General hospital for the past three years. She graduated last May.

Mrs. J. Lipnicka and daughter Mary are visiting in Calgary.

Mrs. W. H. Moser, Mrs. G. E. Cruickshank, Mrs. D. Grant, Mrs. A. Grant and Miss Margaret Grant motored to Calgary over the week end.

A bridal miscellaneous shower was held on Friday evening in the Community hall in honor of Miss E. Strachan, bride-elect of October. Cards were played, honors going to Mrs. Owen, of Fernie, and Miss E. Sharrett.

A dainty luncheon was served, when Mrs. D. Grant on behalf of those present, presented Miss Strachan with the gifts. Miss Strachan in a few words thanked her friends.

Mrs. R. Turner entertained a number of friends at her home on Friday evening.

Mrs. R. Richards entertained the Ladies' Aid at her home on Wednesday, evening.

EMERSON ONCE WROTE:

"Not gold, but only men can make
A people great and strong—
Men who for truth and honor's sake
Stand fast and suffer long."

"Brave men who work while others
sleep;
Who dare while others fly—
They build a nation's pillars deep,
And lift them to the sky."

Nurse (in insane asylum): "There's a man outside who wants to know if we have lost any male patients."

Doctor: "Why?"

Nurse: "Well, he says someone has run off with his wife."

"Can you give me a simple explanation of the difference between Capital and Labor?"

"Sure. If I lend you $10—that's capital. When I try to get it back—that's labor."

"Sandy, I'm very sorry to see you like that."

"Ah, well, it's a' for the good of the cause," replied the delinquent happily. "Ye see, meensister, I've been through the parish collectin' funds, and at every house they made me h'a'e a wee drapple!"

"Every house? But surely, Sandy, some of my people are teetotalers?"

"Aye, some are, but I wrote to them."

Dear Versus Elks

"Going to the lodge, Henry?" asked the young wife in surprise. "I didn't know you were a member of any lodge."

"Why—yes—Jessie, I belong to the Elks."

"And would you rather spend the evening with a lot of Elks than with your own little dear?"

And Henry meekly hung up his hat again.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. John Curry, who have been visiting at the coast for about three weeks, returned home over the week end.

John Hewitt left Wednesday for Lacombe, where he will visit for several days with Mr. and Mrs. Ball.

He: "I don't know whether to buy a house or a car."

She: "Buy a house, get a mortgage on it, and buy a car with the mortgage money—then you will have both."

Mrs. Black: "We really must get a new car, John."

John: "What—when we're still paying installments on the car I exchanged for the car I sold in part payment for the car we've got now."—Pearson's.

"My wife told me to take the old cat off somewhere and lose it; so I put him in a basket and tramped out into the country about eight miles."

"Ya, and did you lose the cat?"

"Lose it! If I hadn't followed it, I'd never got back home."

OLYMPIC CHAMPION'S FATHER PRAISES FISH

"Eat More of It," says Physician-Father of Frank Amyot, Canadian Winner of World Canoe Championship

Frank Amyot, world champion canoeist and the only Canadian to win a world title at the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin, comes from a home where the value of fish foods is recognized.

"Fish is one of our most valuable foods," says a statement by the champion's father, Dr. J. A. Amyot, formerly Deputy Minister of National Health for Canada, "and the consumption of greater quantities than are now in use is advisable."

Frank Amyot won his Olympic honors by leading the field home in the 1,000-metre canoe singles. He conquered paddlers from many lands and if some of them gave him a hard race for a time he had in reserve strength and skill and courage to fight off their challenge. His victory sent the Canadian colors to the top of the Olympic flagpole for the only time during the 1936 Olympiad, though other Canadian competitors in different events made a showing of which they and their country had no cause to be ashamed.

The champion's father has not only proclaimed Canadian fish to be among the best of foods, but out of his long experience as a doctor and a public health administrator he has given reasons why fish is beneficial in the diet. Fish and meat, he has pointed out, contain the same nutritive constituents—proteins and fats—and the protein of fish is essentially the same as that of meat. Moreover, fish foods are more easily digested than meats since their muscle fibres are shorter and more readily masticated.

"Fish, in addition," said Dr. Amyot, "contains vitamins and is especially rich in Vitamin D, which is so necessary for the development of bone. The use of Vitamin D prevents rickets. The existence of Vitamin D in fish oils suggests the importance of fish as a diet for the young. Sea foods are of special significance in that their iodine content is higher than that of plants or the flesh of animals."

Canadian fish and shellfish, by the way, are available all the year 'round in various market forms—fresh, frozen, canned, smoked, dried, and pickled. More than 60 different kinds of food fish and shellfish are taken by the Dominion's fishing industry.

YEAST FROM WOOD

For years the waste products from paper mills has been poured into lakes and rivers—a total loss. Now a process has been developed to utilize this waste material for the production of yeast. A mill at Liverpool, Nova Scotia, with a daily production of 4000 pounds is in operation, with further mills planned for other Canadian points.

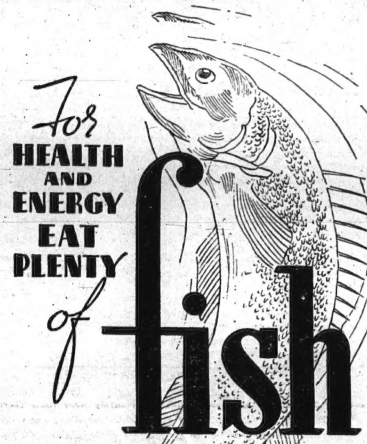

Scientists have long dreamed of utilizing the sugar contained in wood. After the chemical processes involved in the making of pulp for paper manufacture, there is left a small percentage of sugar in the blackish liquor which remains. Early attempts to take the sugar from the liquor were without success. Even the stress of wartime substitution failed to produce a practical method. It remained unsolved until 1925, when a Swedish chemist, G. Heijkensjold, succeeded.

By various chemical processes, seed yeast cells are made to devour the sugar in the liquid waste from the pulp mill; eleven pounds of seed yeast multiplies into twenty-six tons of yeast. Then the greatly multiplied yeast-cells have all the water pressed out of them and are packed in the conventional manner. Each ton of waste liquid makes forty to fifty-five pounds of yeast. Just another example of how the forests serve Canadian industry.

Education And The Teacher

Few people look upon periods of depression such as Western Canada has experienced in the past few years, along with most of the other countries of the world in varying degree, with complacency. On the contrary here, as elsewhere, such experiences are usually regarded by the great majority as periods of unadulterated evil, with dissatisfaction and unrest their inevitable concomitants.

It is customary, under such conditions, to surround everything with a halo of gloom. Everything is wrong at home and abroad. Words and deeds are subjected to criticism in an intensive search for microscopic flaws and motives are probed with deep, underlying suspicion. Altruism and faith in fellow mankind almost appear to have gone into hibernation and the whole stream of life seems to be ruffled with turbidity. Criticism is the order of the day.

Criticism of the right type and with the proper motive behind it has, of course, its place in the scheme of things. In fact, without it, there could be little if any progress, but if it is to fill its appointed role in life, it must have behind it a sincere desire to promote betterment and must be dictated by reason rather than swayed by blind passion.

The educational systems and educational methods in operation in the prairie provinces are among the many things which have had to run the gamut of the critical vogue of the period. The criticism which has, in recent years, been voiced freely at conventions, school board sessions, public meetings and during election campaigns in the home and on the street comes not only from parents of children attending educational institutions and the general public but also from educational authorities, teachers and others trained in the craft of pedagogy.

One hears, on the one hand, that the educational system is too expensive and too extravagant. On the other hand, governments and trustees are accused of parsimony. One day the people are told that, in effect, the educational system and set-up is lagging behind the times and the following day, that it is too far advanced for the requirements of present day social conditions and requirements.

As to methods, curricula, equipment and text books, criticisms are legion and varied, so much so, in fact, that it would take a ponderous tome to even list them.

While it may be very difficult, and perhaps impossible to crystallize all these opinions and criticisms into some co-ordinate form which might enable them to be attacked and dealt with on a scientific basis, the existence of so much discussion on such an important topic demonstrates, at least, that the depression is having the beneficial effect of arousing a keener interest in a topic of vital interest to the future welfare of the country, because it cannot be denied that the trend of education of the youth of today will largely determine the destiny of the nation tomorrow.

Because of this it is highly important that there should be some unification of majority opinion on educational systems, methods and trends. There are one or two things which should not be lost sight of in this welter of discussion which often, unfortunately, ranges around comparatively trivial details. That is, the main purposes of educational systems, which might briefly be enunciated as the intention of developing a desirable type of citizen and of developing a citizen capable of fitting himself or herself into the life of the community.

This means the development of a race of people with character and ability to think and act for themselves. If this is borne in mind as the chief objective of education, the great importance of the character and ability of the teacher becomes immediately apparent, a matter of far greater importance than the method, the text book or the curriculum, of even greater importance than the type of building in which instruction is carried on or the equipment that is used in imparting information.

The statement is not made with any intention of conveying an impression that the schools of the west are not staffed with teachers of character and capacity. On the contrary, the standard of the teaching profession has improved very materially and rapidly for so young a country as the Canadian west and teachers of the present day generally represent a high standard.

But it should be pointed out that if more emphasis is laid on the character and ability of the teacher as an essential of the first importance, the controversies over many other phases of the educational system would rear its questions of more or less minor consequence.

Replicas Of Crown Jewels

Collection Represents Forty Years' Hobby of One Man

There will shortly be on view in London a collection of about 2,000 full-scale replicas of Crown jewels, regalia, insignia, and other emblems of royal ceremonial which have cost their owner nearly £30,000.

The collection covers most of the past and present monarchies of Europe, and represents the 40 years' hobby of one man and endless patient work by jewellers, stone-cutters, polishers, and other highly skilled craftsmen. Naturally the British Crown jewels hold pride of place. They go back to the crown of Alfred the Great (circa 871), and embrace the crowns, sceptres, and orbs of 30 Kings and Queens since that time. Every example is as near a perfect reflection of its original as is possible, except, of course, the diamonds, rubies, pearls, and other precious stones, which are represented by brilliant and synthetic stones.

Each is an absolute copy for size, shape, cutting and setting, color and polish, and so meticulous has been the effort to achieve historical accuracy that the owner of this collection has literally spent months in the Tower and the London museums making sketches and in collecting photographs and measurements.

In olden days each King and Queen had a new set of Coronation jewels. Most of these were destroyed in the Commonwealth days, and in more modern times economy calls have resulted in crowns being altered to suit successive monarchs.

Search For Gold In England

King Of Dowsers Arrives In London From Vienna

Armed with a small silver divining rod, and clad in a picturesque uniform, Dr. Emerich Herzog, "King of Dowsers," arrived in London from Vienna on search for gold and oil in England.

Interested parties, he says, have invited him to take part in the hunt for oil in the south. During his stay he will undertake a lecture tour, his engagements including an address to the British Society of Dowsers. Drawing his rod from an inside pocket of his coat, Dr. Herzog gave a demonstration. Held over a cup of water the rod pointed its spring tip downward.

This rod is not his only apparatus. He has with him 27 different types of dowsing machines for divining the presence of different mineral deposits.

Dr. Herzog, 76, has 49 years' experience of dowsing. He claims the discovery of important deposits of copper, gold, beryllium and platinum in Austria and himself owns gold, silver and lead mines revealed by his own rod.

Dr. Herzog came over to England by air and says that while the aeroplane was travelling between the coast and Croydon he recorded oil and gold deposits.

SELECTED RECIPES

SAND TARTS

- ½ cup butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1½ cups flour
- 2 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
- White of one egg
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- Blanched almonds
- Cream butter, add sugar gradually and well beaten egg, then flour which has been sifted with baking powder, "chill" dough. Put half the mixture on floured board and roll one-eighth inch thick—cut with doughnut cutter—brush over with white of egg and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon which have been mixed together—split almonds and arrange on top, three halves at equal distance. Place on buttered sheet, bake 8 to 10 minutes in a slow oven. When baked the tarts should be a very delicate brown.

Dilapidated Travel By Air

Racing Greyhound Leaped 2,000 Feet To Its Death

After biting its way through the fabric of an airplane during a trip from Brisbane to Sydney a racing greyhound leaped 2,000 feet to its death. The dog had been placed in a wicker crate in the baggage compartment at the rear of the passengers' cabin, and apparently became excited at air travel. It escaped from the crate and then started the task of tearing its way through the fabric. It eventually succeeded for when the air liner arrived at the Sydney airport, the greyhound was missing and the fabric was torn.

Marie Antoinette was imprisoned for more than a year before her execution.

Japan Buys Canadian Ship

Merchant Marine Freighter Has Been Sold Five Times

Apparently under permanent ownership at last, the former Canadian government merchant marine freighter, Canadian Leader, sailed from Halifax with a Japanese crew for the West Indies to pick up a cargo of scrap iron consigned to Japan.

Since her sale along with nine other government steamships last winter to the Montreal-Australia-New Zealand line, the Canadian Leader has had a checkered career. She was sold by the Anzac line to the British Tower Steamship Company, resold to Rethymnis and Kulu-kunda, Greek shipping company, and finally bought by Japanese interests at a price reported to be $82,500. It was also reported Japanese interests had bought the Canadian Victor, now in England, and the Canadian British at Montreal.

Revising Their Manners

Japs Studying Proper Greeting For Next Olympic Visitors

Foreigners who attend the Olympic games at Tokyo in 1940 will be spared the embarrassment of the naive Japanese salutation, "How old are you?"

Police are passing the word around that the heretofore proper greeting—from the Japanese viewpoint—is distasteful to foreigners, especially women.

Although the Olympiad is, three and a half years ahead, Japanese are already getting ready. Study of English has been given a great impetus among store clerks, policemen and businessmen. Early concern for the morals of Japanese girls is being dissipated.

VICKS VAPOROL

For Coronation Day

State Coach Of Speaker Of The House Being Reconditioned

The state coach of the speaker of the House of Commons is being furnished up for the coronation.

Its last appearance was at King George's jubilee, when the speaker rode in it to St. Paul's. At King George's coronation in 1911 it merely conveyed the speaker from the House of Commons to the abbey, a distance of less than 300 yards.

Oddly enough while the coach, with harness and stabling, is provided by the state, the speaker has to arrange himself for horses. For nearly a century Whitehead's brewery has had this privilege, which dates from the time when Mr. Speaker Shaw-Lefevre married a Whitehead. The coach weighs nearly 3½ tons, and having no brakes cannot go down hill.

Breathes With Iron Lung

Birdsall Sweet, now 18, has completed the fifth year he has spent with an "iron lung" to aid his breathing. Hospital attendants in Beacon, N.Y., described his spirits as good and his growth in height and weight nearly normal. His treatment began after an attack of infantile paralysis.

"I hear you're going to be married, old man! I hope you'll be very happy."

"Well, I don't see why I should not. I came through the War all right."

"Our sins will find us out, but they can generally be relied upon to call again."

Show Their Patriotism

Thousands Of Families Change Swedish Surnames To Finnish

Thirty thousand families have officially changed their Swedish surnames to, more Finnish-sounding ones. This wave of patriotism follows the example of 25,000 families who did the same at the recent Kalevala (national epic) centenary celebrations. Considerable confusion has resulted from this sudden change, states a message from Helsinki. Postmen, particularly, are finding it a problem to deliver letters to the right people, and correspondents have to think twice when they address business and personal friends.

A Brand New Industry

Calling Elk For Photographers Is Job Of Banff Guide

Banff has a brand new industry which was invented by Les Saunders, of Bowden, north of Calgary, who is a trail guide there in the summer. On long pony train trips he amused guests at the Banff Springs Hotel by imitating the peculiar mating call of the elk. It was not long until he found bull elk answering him, and finally approaching near to investigate. Now he is busy calling elk from the woods for enthusiastic photographers.

NEW PLUG-IN

NEW JACKET

YOUR NEXT B BATTERY

ALWAYS A LEADER in battery improvements, Eveready this year presents the Layerbilt with a new "plug-in" socket. With each Layerbilt comes an adapter—a flat disc with connectors and pins. Simply attach the wires from the set to the adapter and plug the three pins into the one socket which is firmly embedded in the top of the battery.

This "plug-in" is an extra advantage for the famous Layerbilt which is firmly embedded in layers—the modern invention which gives 40% more power than round-cell types.

Pay a few more cents for Layerbilt—and have many hours more of trouble-free service. During the life-time of your set, Layerbilt will save you many dollars.

BRITAIN WILL NOT DISCUSS THE MANDATE ISSUE

Margate, Kent.—The Conservative party opened its annual conference at this seaside resort, heard a strong speech on defence questions by Sir Samuel Hoare, administered a rebuttal to the government on the mandates question, and urged an imperial tariff preference on all agricultural produce.

The conference showed itself entirely out of sympathy with the government's refusal to pledge itself definitely not to discuss the question of the possible transfer of British mandated territories, and defeated an amendment which expressed the official attitude.

Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, attempted unsuccessfully to rally the delegates to the official view, after declaring in his speech to the conference that the British government itself had no intention of raising the question.

Duncan Sanzay, non-in-law of Winston Churchill, introduced the mandates resolution, which was carried amid cheers. It urged the government "in order to dispel grave anxieties within the Empire and dangerous hope abroad, to give an assurance that the declaration made by the then foreign secretary, Sir John Simon, to the German chancellor in Berlin in March, 1935, that the cession of British mandated territory was not a discussable question, will remain the unaltered attitude of His Majesty's government."

Sir Samuel Hoare reviewed Prime Minister Baldwin's statement in the House of Commons last April, in which Mr. Baldwin made the legal position of mandates clear. He showed then that no provision was made for the transfer of mandates and assured the house the government had no intention of raising the matter. Sir Samuel added he hoped that in the present delicate international situation, would not be expected to elaborate or add to these statements.

The amendment which the conference rejected asked that the delegates accept this declaration as well as the prime minister's assurance that the government would not enter into any commitments without first permitting the fullest discussion in the House of Commons. Sanzay's original motion was carried by acclamation.

Sir Samuel's speech on defence questions was followed by the conference's unanimous approval of a resolution commending the government's defence policy. In his speech Sir Samuel said the situation had become "substantially worse" during the past six months, that the "supposed weakness" of the British Empire had become a disturbing factor in international politics, that Germany was spending $4,000,000,000 annually in military expenditure, and that the proportion of the Japanese total budget devoted to the army and navy had reached the striking figure of 46 per cent.

Returns From Northland

Steamship Nascope Brings News From Arctic Regions

Halifax.—The ice-scarred steamship Nascope came back from the Canadian northland, bringing the year's output of news from the Arctic regions. Almost complete absence of crime was noted by Inspector Keith Duncan of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police who carried out inspections in all the far-north posts.

"The Eskimos are getting along fine," reported Major D. L. McKendall, M.C., officer in charge of the expedition, but he added they had their own "depression" due to a scarcity of caribou, their chief supply of clothing. Also seals and walrus, their main food source, were difficult to find, Major McKendall said. Health of the natives was improving.

Corporal R. C. Gray of the R.C.M.P., after four years in the western Arctic and two years at Pond Inlet, returned on the Nascope, being relieved by Constable L. E. Cory. Constable Arthur Munro broke his five years' vigil at Lake Harbour to return to civilization. Constable D. C. Turner took over his post. At Fort Harrison, Constable W. G. Doorman replaced Constable L. H. Yeomans and Constable R. N. Yates went north with the Nascope to strengthen the detachment at Chesterfield Inlet.

Market For Livestock

Plans Made For Inspection Of Cattle Before Shipping To England

Saskatoon.—Plans developed in co-operation with the British ministry of agriculture to avoid rejection of Canadian cattle at British ports by inspection in Canada and methods adopted to secure a steady supply for that market were outlined by Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture here. The gathering was sponsored by the Saskatoon board of trade for those attending the Saskatoon feeder show and sale.

Calling attention to the fact that discussion of agricultural policies in Canada had tended to centre on wheat, Mr. Gardiner pointed out that livestock and livestock products produced more than Canada's wealth than did wheat and that the livestock men might therefore consider themselves the most important section of Canadian agriculture.

In the House of Commons he had suggested the need of a national marketing policy for farm products and proposed that $300,000 should be spent in making a start in that direction. No member of any party had opposed the proposal to set up a marketing organization.

Mr. Gardiner discussed the great variation in the export surplus of Canadian cattle and the way Canada had sold them alternately in the United States and Great Britain. When one talked in Great Britain of Canada as a source of supply of beef, the question of steadiness of supply was brought up.

The speaker referred to drought as one reason of irregular supply. In the House of Commons he had said there were some 900,000 cattle in the park belt and some 600,000 head on the prairies of the south and west of the province. In difficult years the prairies were unable to maintain that number of cattle. Such years would occur from time to time.

Farmers in Canada depended for their existence on a continuous market. They should be thinking of the problems of the consumer as well as those of the producers of food. He held that Great Britain, the United States and Canada could meet any war threat.

Striving To Enforce Peace

Government Using Every Means To Restore Order In Palestine

Jerusalem.—The Holy Land awaits proclamation of martial law, authorized by the British cabinet, as a last resort to the Palestine government. Disorder and disorders. Two divisions of Great Britain's troops, supported by squadrons of aeroplanes, are striving to enforce peace on Arabs sworn to an undying feud against the Jews, who, they say, are stealing the country from them.

The Arab protest against Jewish immigration and the sale of land to Jews took the form of a general strike, which, it is estimated, has now lasted 24 weeks and resulting disorders. It is estimated that 128 lives have been lost. The dead are believed to number 27 British soldiers and police, 304 Arabs and 87 Jews. About 1,200 persons have been wounded since the strike began April 19, it is said, and property damage is estimated at $14,000,000.

The authorities charged with pacifying the country, mandated to Britain by the League of Nations after the Great War, face a delicate task. Across the border in Transjordan the most warlike people on earth, the Bedouins, who drove the Turks from the Hedjaz during the war, fidget uneasily. It is said that only a judicious distribution of largesse among the chieftains has kept them quiet thus far.

The uprising started spontaneously. There was a funeral in Jaffa in April, and Arabs claim that slurring remarks from the sidewalks as the cortege passed started a fight. Before the day was over 10 Jews and two Arabs had been killed.

Shortage Of Workers

Need Skilled Mechanics For Munition Plants In Britain

Montreal.—Shortage of skilled mechanics for munition and armament manufacture is being felt in England, according to Major-General W. B. M. King, former commanding officer of military district number four, who returned to Canada on the liner Montcalm.

General King, who plans to remain in Canada for the winter, said he had visited one munition manufacturing plant and was told the staff of 3,500 would be doubled if more skilled mechanics were available. Two years ago, he said, the same plant had a staff of 50 men—manufacturing truck bodies.

Similar conditions exist in other branches of armament manufacture, he said.

New Altitude Record

British Pilot Takes His Plane 49,967 Feet Above Earth

Farnborough, England.—The Royal Air Force announced Squadron Leader F. R. D. Swain had established a world altitude record of 49,967 feet.

The announcement said Swain flew an experimental plane at Bristol, exceeding a record of 48,698 feet set in August. His ship was powered with a special Pegasus motor.

Swain is a member of the experimental section of the R.A.F. establishment at Farnborough. The former record holder was M. J. Dettr, of France.

Swain was unaware he had established a new record when he descended from the atmosphere. Besides an altimeter, the plane carried two sealed "barothermographs" which are so complicated they had to be sent to the national physical laboratory for the record.

The pilot wore a specially sealed suit blown up to maintain ordinary air pressure in the rarefied heights where he encountered winds of hurricane force.

Major Farm Problem

New Disease Causes Heavy Loss Of Horses In U.S.

Salt Lake City.—Encephalomyelitis—an equine disease almost unknown before 1930—has killed at least 30,000 United States horses worth more than $2,225,000, agricultural authorities estimate.

Dr. W. H. Hendricks, who is chief veterinarian in one of the most heavily affected states (Utah) has made a first-hand study of the disease, described it as "major American farm problem."

So little is known of the baffling disease, sometimes inaccurately called brain fever or sleeping sickness, that efforts to fight it have been largely futile, he added.

SPAIN CHARGES VIOLATIONS OF NEUTRALITY PACT

Geneva.—The Spanish delegation to the League of Nations published documents charging Italy, Germany and Portugal with furnishing arms to the Spanish insurgents in violation of the European, non-intervention pact.

The documents contained letters from Madrid to France, Italy, Germany and Portugal denouncing the "hands off" policy as a blockade against the "legitimate Spanish government."

A note, the documents said, was sent by the Madrid government to all signatory nations of the non-intervention accord declaring that if the insurgents had not received the armed aid from Germany and Italy they would have been "crushed at the outset."

Alleged violations of the neutrality pact, the memoranda declared, "created a precedent of extreme gravity in international domain."

The communication concluded with a demand for abolition of arms embargoes on the Madrid government.

The charges made specific reference to insurgent receipt of "arms, ammunition and men from Germany," and alleged Italy had sent 24 war planes to insurgents.

Alberta's Resources

Province On Threshold Of A New Era Of Prosperity

Edmonton.—Alberta is on the threshold of a new era of prosperity based on production of bituminous sands minerals, and salt deposits in the north as well as oil. Hon. Charles Cockcroft, provincial treasurer, said here at the opening of the three-day western annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Mr. Cockcroft welcomed delegates on behalf of Hon. C. C. Ross, minister of lands and mines, who was unable to attend, and predicted that with continuance of persistence and optimism of Albertans in development of natural resources in the face of difficulties, Alberta's mining industry may exceed returns of agriculture.

Intensive development of natural resources within the province, together with government resettlement of agricultural drought areas and industrial advance, "will bring to pass the time when our difficulties will be over," Mr. Cockcroft said.

Proposal to establish a large charcoal and timber plant on the south shore of Lesser Slave lake where there are large stands of birch may also be a source of increased prosperity, the provincial treasurer stated.

Next annual meeting of the institute will be held in Montreal next March. It was announced by secretary E. J. Carlyle of Montreal, who forecast "the largest meeting in the history of the institute."

Germans Face Food Shortage

Minister Of Agriculture Gives Report To Nazi Paper

Berlin.—Agriculture Minister Walter Darre in a letter to the Voelkischer Beobachter, organ of the Nazi party, said that in all German territory there was available "only between 50 and 55 per cent of the annual consumption of butter and fats."

Estimates of the current German crop have indicated a shortage of wheat, grain, pork, poultry and other foods during the coming year.

Story Of Success

Canadian Becomes President Of Large American Industry

New York.—The $43,000,000 American Can Company had a new president today. In America another success story as Canadian-born Herbert A. Baker, now a United States citizen, became its chief operating officer.

Baker, scientist as well as business man, rose rough the laboratories and sales division of the can-making concern, with which he has been connected since graduation from the University of Toronto in 1906.

He was born at Harmony, Ont., a suburb of Oshawa. His offices would not say in what year, and Baker would not comment on his elevation. He left Canada in his middle 20's.

But the outlines of a romantic career were apparent in the record. Four years after he began his business with American Can Company he became its chief chemist. Eight years later he was manager of the company's central sales division, stationed at Chicago. From there he stepped into the vice-presidency in charge of sales.

He completed his rise when he succeeded C. E. Green, resigned.

Coastal Defence

Air Base In Northern British Columbia Is Projected

Vancouver.—During the past nine months the federal government has given careful consideration to Canada's coastal defence, particularly on the Pacific coast. Hon. Ian MacKenzie, national minister of defence, said on his arrival here.

The minister said the government was considering the establishment of a northern coastal air base in British Columbia with the possibility of an intermediate base, between the Queen Charlotte islands and Vancouver.

Mr. MacKenzie said $375,000 would be spent on the Jericho air station in the immediate future and the contract had been let for the first of this work.

DEVALUATION OF THE FRENCH FRANC MEETS APPROVAL

Paris.—Socialist Premier Leon Blum's program for devaluation of the franc, revised by the senate, was re-approved in practically its original form by the chamber of deputies.

The chamber refused to accept alterations made by the senate, where there was opposition to articles authorizing the government to control price levels.

Differences between the two houses were generally expected to continue, as there was no indication the senate's opposition to the granting of decree powers to Blum would break down.

The wrangle between the chamber and the senate constituted a serious threat to the life of the government.

French parliament was given further delay in enacting the measure would be dangerous to the country's internal order and embarrassing to its international relations, intimated he would throw the administration's fate into the balance if it were necessary to end the dispute.

The premier had declined to compromise on his demand for power to control price levels as a result of the devaluation plan.

In Amsterdam the fall in the international value of the guilder occasioned by announcement the Netherlands can no longer pursue its gold standard policy has resulted in a boost in the export duty levied on native Dutch East Indian rubber shipments. It was announced "The new rate is 47 guilders per 100 kilograms, an increase of 10 guilders. The increased rate is equivalent to an impost of $25.92 per 220 pounds at the present rate for the guilder in New York, 35.15 cents. Banking experts explained the rubber export duty in the Netherlands East Indies had been inaugurated to check excessive exports.

Germany will stand pat on her present policy, Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Reichsbank president and head of the reichsbank, told the bank's board of directors.

Dr. Schacht said: "We have come to the decision that we shall not add to the uncertainty of international trade already increased by devaluation measures abroad—by ourselves injecting an element of uncertainty." Dr. Schacht did not say flatly and specifically Germany has no intention of devaluing the mark. "The reich government will be ready to participate in purposeful international negotiations," he said.

RESOURCES MAY HELP TO PAY OFF INDEBTEDNESS

Edmonton.—Development of Canada's resources must not "be in the interests of a privileged few," Hon. T. A. Crerar, Dominion minister of mines, told a joint luncheon of the Edmonton chamber of commerce and the chamber of mines here. Delegates attending the current convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy were guests at the luncheon.

The minister blamed uncertainty and lack of confidence on the part of investors for retarding development.

"If we see new activity throughout the world we can say we are now emerging from depression days," he said. "Canada suffered terribly and most of it can be considered results of the World War."

"Tremendous advances have been made in science and invention since then, making for more favorable conditions. But we have not yet re-established the balance disrupted by impact of the war on every department of human life."

He referred to huge expenditures still assessed annually to Canada because of the war.

"Governments don't get money off rose bushes but from pockets of the taxpayers," he warned. "Temporary shifts must be made but in final analysis that is the only way to get money."

"Even provinces have got into financial difficulties through failure to regard fundamental laws. Huge debts, over $100,000,000 in most provinces, hang now where not long ago no debts existed."

He said "pressure to spend money" and desire of politicians to retain office are partly responsible together with over-optimism which bred extravagant borrowing beyond reasonable means.

"We borrowed the money in good faith and now are faced with necessity of footing the bill," Mr. Crerar said. "Yet Canada has greater potential wealth than probably any country in the world. It makes us wonder if we are still the careful people we were."

"I think we can foot the bill if we are careful and prudent."

To Receive Degree

Victoria University To Bestow Degree Of Doctor Of Divinity On Baron

Toronto.—Believed to be the first instance in Canada of the conferment of the doctor of divinity degree on a layman, that honor will be received by Baron Tweedsmuir, governor-general of Canada, from Victoria University, October 10, at the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the institution's royal charter.

Lord Tweedsmuir's tenure of the post of lord high commissioner to the Church of Scotland in 1893 and 1894, as well as His Excellency's well known intellectual achievements, were the "honoris causa" on which the university authorities based their request that he accept the degree usually reserved for theologians.

Baron Tweedsmuir received the D.D. degree from Victoria, Oct. 10, at the special joint convocation of the University of Toronto, with which Victoria is affiliated, are: Rt. Rev. Peter Bryce, Toronto, moderator of the United Church of Canada; Rt. Rev. Malcolm A. Campbell, Montreal, moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada; Rev. F. H. Cosgrave, Toronto, provost of Trinity University, and Rev. H. P. Whidden, Hamilton, chancellor of McMaster University.

Official Visit Ended

Governor-General Returns To Ottawa From Western Trip

Winnipeg.—His first official tour of the west at an end, Baron Tweedsmuir left here for Ottawa shortly after arriving from Prince Albert where he had spent a brief holiday in northern Saskatchewan.

The governor-general took with him a beaded cloak for King Edward, made by the Indians of Mistawasis reserve near Prince Albert, as a symbol of their loyalty to the empire.

No official calls were made by His Excellency during a three-hour stay here.

Fatal Car Accident

Winnipeg.—W. George Harbottle, 48, assistant treasurer and accountant with the Manitoba Paper Company at Pine Falls, Man., was killed instantly when the automobile he was driving was in collision with a motor truck 10 miles north of here. Mrs. Harbottle was injured but not seriously.

That word "deny" is also being overworked in Alberta.

The average local mother can tell just how her boy is going to turn out by the time he turns in.

Rev. G. G. Webber, western field secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, will occupy the pulpit of the United church on Sunday evening next.

After responding to a false alarm, the Edmonton fire brigade returned to their hall and reported "N.S.F." Meaning, of course, "No Such Fire."

Overheard on Main Street in Blairmore yesterday afternoon: "No, I'm not going to Coleman. All the five-buck seats will be occupied."

Miss Frances Brusset, of Blairmore, underwent an operation in St. Vincent's hospital at Pincher Creek this week for appendicitis, and is reported making rapid recovery.

With temperature the past few days hovering around the 60 to 70 mark, a local weather prophet states we will have 40 below zero in three or four days hence.

A farmer friend of the Coleman Journal informs that paper the difference between a tax and a levy. "The tax takes half of what you have, while the levy takes it all."

Dr. W. A. R. Kerr, M.A., Ph.D., dean of the faculty of arts and sciences at the University of Alberta for the past twenty-one years, is named to succeed Dr. R. C. Wallace as president of the university.

Albert E. Knowles, of Coleman, has secured a permit from the town council of that town to erect a building, estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $1,000, to be of frame-stucco construction. It may be used as a State credit house.

An exchange remarks: "In the absence of Premier Aberhart, Hon. Mr. Manning, in speaking over the radio, said the idea of licensing the newspapers was not to control their opinions, but to ensure that they spoke the truth." Well, who's to be the judge?

J. M. Cameron, former general superintendent of the Alberta district, Canadian Pacific Railway, and for eighteen years a resident of Alberta, died at Victoria, B.C., on Tuesday, aged 69. He was a native of Antigonish, Nova Scotia, and joined the C.P.R. in 1900.

A most enjoyable concert was given by the West Canadian Collieries band in the Columbus hall on Sunday evening. Selections by the band were interspersed with instrumental solos and duets, also several vocal solos by Mrs. Upton, of Bellevue. The chair was occupied by W. H. Chapell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Tompkins, of Blairmore, recently made a trip by auto to Los Angeles, going by way of the Pacific highway and returning by the inland route. They passed through the town of Bandon, in the disastrous fire area, which at the time had no sign of fire. The trip was very delightful, and they were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, the latter being their daughter, Kathleen. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson returned to Lomond on completion of the auto tour.—Coleman Journal.

H. T. Halliwell, editor of the Coleman Journal, left for Calgary yesterday afternoon to attend the annual two-day session of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, of which he is first vice-president and in line for the presidency. The session opened this morning at 9 at the Palliser hotel, and will conclude with a banquet tomorrow evening. Mrs. Halliwell accompanied the editor.

Hon. Capt. Abram Kean, eighty-one-year-old veteran of the Newfoundland seal fishery, kinda feels sore at his company wanting to replace him this coming spring by a younger man. Capt. Kean is the oldest sealing captain to take command of a ship, and at 80 brought in 23,886 seals in the s.s. Beothic. Anxious to again go out in his eighty-second year, even a doctor's certificate turned him down.

Angus J. Morrison, secretary of district 18 of the U.M.W. of A., is in The Pass this week.

Being easy with the foot on the accelerator may keep both feet out of the grave.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. D. J. MacNeil, of Blairmore, on Sunday, September 27th.

Rumor has it that Blairmore's state credit house is to be located in the Brunetto building, two doors east of The Enterprise.

An Alberta exchange remarks: The lion which broke loose in Saskatchewan might get you if you do not sign what some call the economic death warrant.

In Brazil, says a writer, journalists are exempt from taxation because of their "social usefulness." What Aberhart desires them to have in Alberta is "Social Credit usefulness."—Barrie Examiner, Ontario.

Jimmy McLarnin won a ten-round decision over Tony Canzoneri at New York on Monday night.

Unless a man has scored at least one failure, he's unable to appreciate success.

A. W. Robbins went by Friday's train to Calgary, where he will consult a medical specialist.

Remember the annual Thanksgiving dance to be held in the Columbus hall on Monday night next.

Mrs. W. L. Evans and Mrs. Jack Patterson, two members of the Blairmore contingent of Vimy Pilgrims, returned home Wednesday night.

The teacher of a Saskatchewan school is named Pidwyrbecki. An exchange wonders if that's Scotch or Gaelic, or if it came over on the Bruce.

If Premier Aberhart looks forward to publishing a book, he should gather all the press comment on himself, his government and its policies, and have them printed. The book would contain a whole lot of common sense reading.

It's all right to pay as you go, but a hotel keeper would prefer you to pay as you stay.

A Lethbridge firm is advertising a "P.D.Q. Sale." Well, that being interpreted is "a pretty darn quick sale."

Local advertisers—just note the amount of "national" advertising contained in this issue of The Enterprise. You will see absolutely none of this in the cheaper sheets.

A hen of the Dionne variety, at Tatamagouche, Nova Scotia, recently laid an egg with three yolks, after several times accomplishing the double-yolk task. Each yolk of the three was as large as the average single yolk.
